Editorial Convention—A Good Time at Green Bay.

[illegible] Correspondence of the Sentinel.

GREEN BAY, June 13, 1860.

Three locals went astray from Milwaukee [illegible] the 10th, with free passes in their pockets to a three days' store of exhaustive fun. This triumvirate got aboard the cars, endured the "jouncing," the rumbling, the dust, the train boys, and went spinning off to Green Bay under a delusion that Heaven had granted an armistice, and joy was beckoning from that mouldy but charming little town in the extreme North-East of Wisconsin. They tumbled, and "jounced," and woke up in the "Adams' House," at Oshkosh.

It is our painful duty to record, that these three Milwaukee representatives of the Press tested the amiability of Messrs. CARTER and BARBER, of the said "Adams' House," to its utmost extent. No gentlemanly host ever encountered a more ferocious set of rascals. And the reporting triangle having been made complete by the addition of a Basharian from Green county—by name, FRANK HYDE—they then not only eat the "Adams' House" barren, but they improvised a war-dance at night and insisted on taking their bedsteads to pieces, and displaying to the astonished proprietor of the house a state of [illegible] villainy, which probably will never again greet his hospitable eyes until some other Milwaukee triumvirate makes its escape. They then and there, also, made a solemn compact to write the "Adams' House" into fame inextinguishable as compensation. Two of the said locals have already redeemed their promise, as the Wisconsin and News will testify.

The prospective "good time," supposed to be gathering at Green Bay, was in this wise: some two hundred editors from all parts of the State, were there to meet and transact a hypothetical amount of important business (affecting the interests of the craft) under the name and style of an Editorial Convention. Well, the locals having recapitulated their energies, started for the legendary town on the Berlin City, and the next morning we were walking over the placid surface of Lake Winnebago "like things of life."

Of course, we, with the rest, took note of the beauty of this charming sheet of water, with its lighthouse in the middle, like a tortoise sunning itself, and its shadowy banks of cultivated hills looming up in the cool, blue distance; and no local or un-local person could glide over its surface without feeling about in his memory for those bits of treasured poetry which would seem to fit better here than anywhere else.

Two hours the Berlin City moved like an arrow through the glossy surface, and then we were at Menasha. Where if one listens, he can hear the hum of her mills before her white houses, and piles of lumber are visible. Menasha has a very eloquent voice, and her voice is the voice of prophecy. The chorus of her mills is a song of future prosperity very easily translated by the capitalist or the theorist, when he gets a glimpse at the water-power of the Fox, which lies at her feet like a leviathan waiting to be chained for service. It is an aggravation to sail past such a town without stopping; one desires to delve a few moments with his pencil into her local enterprise, just to get a few lessons in thrift. But Green Bay was waiting for us, and the [illegible] "beckoned" us on.

The passage of the Fox affords one good [illegible] the beauty of Northern Wisconsin, [illegible] new to one, will break upon the eye with considerable astonishment. The [illegible] condition of the towns, the varied beauty of the landscape, and the magnitude and substantial character of the "improvements" [illegible] impress one with a conviction of what a Connecticut [illegible] thundering [illegible] along the [illegible] of successful enterprise.

Fifteen minutes at Appleton, [illegible] picture of a [illegible] factory [illegible]

We were fortunate in being able to take a run up the bluffs at Little Chute and look in upon the old Catholic Mission where Father [illegible] administers the consolations of [illegible] in the church built in 1833. He is a most genial old gentleman, and seemed to take considerable pride in the grounds, consecrated in a double sense from the fact that here was established a mission in 17[illegible], and about the grounds of this same little [illegible] Father MARQUETTE [illegible] This old [illegible] legendary [illegible] The quaint pictures on the walls [illegible] primitives.

What a magnificent bit of landscape [illegible] before De Pere is visible.— There is not a scene on the Mississippi we would rather paint, were we skilled in the artistic [illegible] The Fox winds out into a pretty [illegible] the shores slope with their borders of timber, adorned with [illegible] bright [illegible] raiments, and presently the white houses of De Pere [illegible] the dark blue background, and their long reflections sink down into tapering white shafts. It is exquisitely wild, romantic, and yet so placid and deep. But Green Bay is five miles above De Pere.

Presently the white wings of Col. Robinson's yacht [illegible] towards us, and as it approaches we distinguish the outlines of the Green Bay [illegible] and the dark horizon of the Bay [illegible]

In a few minutes the yacht is along side, and the Colonel is shaking hands with the three locals—looking about him meanwhile for the fifty or sixty editors whom he expected—but who didn't come.

Then we learn that the day before—instead of two hundred there were seventeen distinguished disciples of the quill met at Green Bay by the expectant populace, who were also looking for the two hundred. Then we learn that Mr. SHOLES is not coming to deliver his address. That Mr. BOVEE has the MMS. in his jacket. That, all in all, there will be forty present! How did Green Bay take it? Why Green Bay turned out en masse. The Fire Department, (and a most creditable Fire Department it is,) turned out and paraded. The citizens threw open their houses, and the forty were taken care of and feasted, and waited on, just the same as though the original two hundred were only hanging back at Oshkosh, waiting for another invitation to come up and be happy.

In this lamentable condition is it any wonder that the next day the three locals from Milwaukee raised a banner inscribed with the words "THE MILWAUKEE DELEGATION" and entered the Convention with a proud bearing which said—we shall do our duty.

I cannot close this letter without referring to the steamer Berlin City, Capt. DOWD, which plies between Oshkosh and Green Bay. She is justly the most popular boat on the route. Capt. DOWD wins golden opinions from all who travel with him, his earnest endeavors to gratify his passengers in the most trivial matter, his urbanity and his generosity in placing his steamer at the service of the editors when others had refused, is deserving of fitting remembrance from not only the three Milwaukee locals, but the remainder of the editorial "crowd."

As yet the Convention has done nothing of consequence. BALLOU's eulogy was a fair production, but too long altogether. I cannot see the appropriateness of such "long-winded" efforts. The feeling, sentiment, and biography might all have been given in fifteen minutes. The length of an eulogy destroys sometimes the very object for which it was written.

To-morrow the forty will inspect Green Bay thoroughly, and until then I shall keep my pen dry. SKIM.

GREEN BAY, June 15th.

The Capitol—Sunday—Mt. Vernon.

From Our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Monday, June 11.

DEAR SENTINEL:—The Capitol at Washington is a type of the American nation.—Colossal in its proportions, and unique in its design; a magnificent undertaking in its full conception, yet, at present, a mere patchwork of practical architectural anachronisms; solid without and rich within, yet but half finished; crude and in process of gradual completion; combining in strange medley the old and the new, the choicest productions of the diviniest arts with the roughest, recent yield of the quarry and the lately deserted work of the journeyman stone mason; the triumphs of sculpture in close proximity to the unhewn and misshapen block, innocent as yet of the cunning hand that will fashion it into a comeliness worthy of a place "at the head of the corner;" covering five acres and a quarter of ground with a vast pile, when half the size, economically occupied, would amply suffice; presenting a gilded interior, in its halls, blazing with decoration and loaded with ornament, yet in some of its more exposed parts displaying a severity of taste and a substantial strength, which may rank with Athens, and which may defy the tooth of time—the Capitol in which the legislators of America assemble, possesses many points of symbolical resemblance to that young, splendid, incongruous, but gigantic people, whose representatives occupy it and whose offspring will hold it in common, let us hope, till its last marble column shall crumble into dust.

Religious services yesterday in the Hall of the Representatives were conducted as usual by the Rev. Mr. STOCKTON, Chaplain to the House. Venerable, pure-hearted and eloquent old man, he has "come down to us from a former generation," but neither his eye is dim nor his natural force abated. Although physically incapable of sustaining fatigue, his mind is as clear and strong as ever, and sometimes his white locks are shaken with his emotion, and his once powerful voice peals forth in the old tones which a quarter of a century ago thrilled the hearts of CALHOUN, CLAY and JOHN QUINCY ADAMS. He was chaplain of the House when Old Hickory ruled at the other end of the Avenue in the seat now occupied by the "venerable public functionary;" when the God-like WEBSTER was in full [illegible]; when the Republic was smaller and its men greater; before Minnesota was eligible to bigness and before at least sixteen of the present members were eligible to jackets and trowsers; before Wisconsin was a territory and when Milwaukee had scarcely an existence. The Hall was well filled, and the preacher, speaking seated, held his audience for an hour in a respectful attention that seemed like silent reverence. His salary is only seven hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and it is proposed to make him an appropriation at this session. He well merits some such reward.

VISIT TO MT. VERNON.

TUESDAY, June 12.

At ten o'clock this morning, taking the little steamer "Thomas Collyer," we ran down to Mt. Vernon. The distance is nineteen miles. The craft is 180 feet long, and can carry 350 passengers. She is under command of Capt. BAKER, and makes the trip every other day—allowing travellers nearly two hours at the estate, and bringing them back to dinner.

Immediately after starting, looking to the left bank of the river, we pass the Navy Yard, or Greenleaf's Point, where the Eastern branch empties into the Potomac. The views of Washington and Alexandria, and of the farms and residences along the Virginia shore, are interesting to the tourist.

Our landing reached, which is within a few yards of the old landing used by WASHINGTON, our party toiled up the crooked, steep and shaly ascent and directly were in front of the grave of him whose name Americans will never cease to venerate. A plain brick vault, nearly covered with twining grape vines and wild honey-suckles, fronts the South, for which side an open grating reveals to the reverent eye of the visitor, a white sarcophagus bearing, in relievo, on its upper side the single word, "WASHINGTON." On its marble surface, some gentle pilgrim had dropt a bouquet, whose flowers, now fast withering, yet breathed to every passer-by a warning and a cheering thought:

"Each fading calyx a memento mori,
Yet fount of hope."

Over the keystone of the vault, a white marble slab bears the inscription in black lettering, "Within this enclosure rest the remains of Gen. GEORGE WASHINGTON."—On the roof of the sarcophagus, and consequently almost within arm's reach of the visitors, one can read the following words: "By permission of LAWRENCE LEWIS, the surviving executor of GEORGE WASHINGTON, this sarcophagus was presented by JOHN STRUTHERS, of Philadelphia, marble mason, A. D. 1837." To have permitted this inscription seems to me in very questionable taste. It is mainly a very unusual medium for advertising, and is worse than the ridiculed French inscription: "Sacred to the memory of PIERRE DROUT. His disconsolate widow still keeps the slab at the old stand, No. 17 Rue Lepelleltier." By the side of her husband's, in the Sarcophagus, containing the remains of Mr. MARTA WASHINGTON.

On the right, as you approach the vault, is the monument of Judge BUSHROD WASHINGTON, and on the left that of JOHN AUGUSTINE WASHINGTON, with inscriptions too long to be inserted here, while at the South of the tomb are two other shafts, one to Mr. CONRAD and the other to ELEANOR PARKE LEWIS, the grand-daughter of Mrs. WASHINGTON.

Ascending the hill, we arrived at the mansion. The house fronts the east, and its appearance is so familiar to every intelligent reader—especially since the Ladies' Association has been organized—that description would be needless. The dwelling and out-houses, indeed, remind one of the Yankee's criticism upon the Coliseum—"somewhat out of repair;" but the decayed siding, rickety columns, loose shingles and drooping fences, while they impress us with the conviction that Mr. JOHN A. WASHINGTON has been either exceedingly loath to disturb the ancient memorial of his illustrious namesake, or else "shiftless," or penurious, or poor, undoubtedly were, to render the place more interesting. The observer is permitted to accept whatever reason may seem best; but, certainly, the place and ground are in a most wretched condition. The Ladies' Association propose restoring and renewing the buildings and appertenances, and, for that end, have engaged a competent and intelligent architect—Mr. RICE, of Alexandria—who has all the original plans and drawings and specifications, and intends to make the spot look just as WASHINGTON left it. The expense of restortion will be about seventy thousand dollars.

Mr. JOHN A. WASHINGTON has delivered possession, and recently removed his family from the old mansion. The place is in charge of UPTON HERBERT, appointed as overseer by the lady Regent. The work of rebuilding will commence in July and will be gradually continued as different parts give way, so that ultimately the house will be like the boy's jack-knife, which, though it had received first a new blade and then a new handle, remained the same identical knife after all. It is intended that every object about the estate shall present, as nearly as art and skill can produce counterparts, the same appearance which the sacred spot bore when the Father of his Country dwelt amid its scenes.

Mr. JOHN A. WASHINGTON is reported, by the resident of the neighborhood, to be a gentleman of intelligence and fine social qualities, somewhat reserve in his demeanor toward strangers in consequence of a chronic dread of intrusion naturally caused by the innumerable impertinences that strangers have daily for months and years perpetrated upon the long-suffering proprietor of the Mount Vernon Estate. Not having been bred a showman, he has found the inevitable curiosity-hunter too offensive to be endured. People have thrust themselves in his household at all hours and all seasons. They have walked into his dressing room uninvited. They have opened, with reckless hand, private doors, and private drawers. They have bored him with frivolous and ill-bred questions, and, the moment his back was turned, they have deliberate broken off some choice bit of carving, or pocketed any loose relic, to carry home for their own collections. Even now, such is the hoggish mania for "relics," that it is necessary to station sentinels all over the grounds to protect the premises against depredations, often trifling when taken singly, but in the agregate of course fatal to the appearance of the place, and sometimes of a character and extent calculated to enlarge one's conception of man's capacity for meanness, and to win new converts to the comforting doctrines of total depravity and endless punishment. The vandals spare neither wood nor stone, trees nor flowers. One climbs the grating and pencils his plebian name over that of WASHINGTON on the front of the vault. Another cuts a limb for a cane, or plucks a neat boquet from the lawn. A third, in defiance, not only of the printed notices posted around, out of all common decency, pick and digs to slyly abstract a piece of brick or bit of mortar from the walls of the tomb itself. It is to be hoped that the ladies who have purchased the home and resting-place of the hero and the sage, will be able to keep a large and vigilant police force patrolling the estate to guard these beautiful grounds; for no motive but fear will ever deter from crime or vandalism, either the sacrilegious wretch who would steal the valued property of a national guest (as of the Japanese Ambassadors at Baltimore) or the perhaps well-intentioned [illegible] who, to gratify a vulgar curiosity, would lay sacrilegious hands upon the sacred grave of WASHINGTON. Yours,

BADGER.

Adjournment of Congress.

Both Houses of Congress have concurred in the resolution fixing on Monday next, the 25th instant, the day of adjournment. This will give time to dispose of most of the business of the session, unless the Baltimore Convention interferes with the proceedings of the National Legislature.

OHIO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—The State Convention was an enthusiastic gathering. In addition to the regular delegates there were several thousand Wide-Awakes members of the rank and file. The Columbus boys had erected a large and commodious Wigwam in which the Convention was held.

The ticket was made up harmoniously, and the work of the Convention completed with the best of feeling prevailing. The Platform was short and to the point, as follows:

Resolved, That the declaration of principles adopted by the recent National Convention of the Republican party at Chicago, meets with our hearty approval.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the nomination of Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois, for President, and Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine, for Vice President of the United States, and pledge them our earnest and hearty support.

Resolved, That we adhere to the declaration of principles made by the Republican Convention in Ohio in 1859.

These resolutions were received with a perfect storm of applause which was continued some minutes.

SENSIBLE.—The News of Saturday very sensibly says:

"We are not disposed to deny the assertion of the Sentinel that Mr. Schurz 'knows more about the U. S. Constitution' than our candidate does."

But having given up its remarkably clever notion that Mr. SCHURZ, not being eligible, was still a candidate for Congress, the News transfers its comments after this fashion:

"Our remarks in reference to the ineligibility of Mr. Schurz for the seat of Potter is equally applicable to other aspirants."

Seeing that the News made no other "aspirants" but Mr. SCHURZ, its "remarks" are "palpable" to nobody.

FOURTH OF JULY AT FOX LAKE.—We learn from Mr. [illegible], editor of the Fox Lake Gazette, that arrangements have been made for a grand celebration of the National Holiday at that place. Judge ARTHUR MCARTHUR, of this city, has accepted the invitation to deliver the Oration on that day.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock.

ANOTHER HORSE RAIL ROAD—SPRING STREET TO THE COLD SPRING HOUSE.—The Board of Councillors, at their meeting Friday night, passed an ordinance incorporating Messrs. ALEXANDER MITCHELL, HANS CROCKER, C. D. DAVIS, E. B. WOLCOTT, O. ALEXANDER and their associates, as the Spring street and Cold Spring City Railway Company. The Board of Aldermen, no doubt, will promptly concur in the measure. It is the intention of the corporators, we understand, to commence building the road immediately, and they expect to complete it by September, in time for the first Grand Exhibition of the "Wisconsin Agricultural and Mechanical Association," which will come off, during that month, on the Cold Spring grounds. The road will follow Spring street to the Western line of the City, and then along that line to the Cold Spring House.—We have no doubt that the enterprize will be both popular and profitable.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC—THE OCTOROON.—Mr. SHERLOCK, the present Lessee of the Academy of Music, has brought with him, from Detroit, a very good company, and, during last week, entertained our theatre-going public with a very spirited representation of the drama of "the Hidden Hand." This week he changes the programme, and brings out, for the first time in Milwaukee, the very successful play of "the Octoroon." This piece, the handiwork of DION BOURCICAULT, has been immensely popular in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other Eastern cities, drawing crowded houses night after night. It will be well put upon the stage here, and well performed. We do not wish to raise extravagant expectations among our readers, but we can assure them that if they go to see "the Octoroon" at the Academy of Music, they will concur with us in the favorable opinion we have expressed of the piece itself, and of Mr. SHERLOCK's company.

The City Indebtedness.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I notice in your paper of Saturday an article headed, "The Municipal Indebtedness," in which the city officials are censured for not making provision for the payment of the interest due and to become due on our Municipal bonds.

Though as a citizen, and one of the officials, I must feel sorry that our city is actually unable, for the present, to meet said interest; yet I can state that no effort whatever, has been omitted on the part of the city officials, to provide for this emergency, and to keep the credit of our city unimpaired. The Chairman of the Finance Committee and the Comptroller have severally called on our most prominent banking institutions for a temporary loan, to be applied exclusively on the payment of the interest maturing during this year, upon pledge of the revenue to be derived from the next levy of taxes; yet, among other arguments, they emphatically set forth that in the face of past events and the repeated decisions of the Courts, declaring our taxes illegal, it might be beyond the control of the city authorities to enforce the collection of taxes, sufficient in amount to redeem the loans now asked.

From the above you will please acknowledge that the city officials have [illegible] to perform their duties under the circumstances, and that if they have not yet succeeded in their negotiations, it was not from the want of attention or due regard for the emergency. Yours respectfully,

FRIED. [illegible]

Milwaukee, June 16, 1860.

THE CASE OF E. [illegible] GARDENER.—We [illegible] Saturday last, upon the motion of E. [illegible] Gardener's counsel, the Municipal Court reduced the bail demanded in his case to $1,000, which was immediately tendered and accepted and GARDENER released from confinement. He has been in jail upwards of three months, and during this has suffered so much that his physical and [illegible] ily feeble very great solicitude in regard to the result.

REPUBLICAN HEAD-QUARTERS FOR THE CAMPAIGN.—The Young Men's Republican Club have taken one of the large rooms on the first floor of Albany Hall, opposite the Newhall House, and will occupy it as their Head-Quarters during the Campaign. It will be opened, with appropriate ceremonies, next Thursday evening.

BASE BALL.—Our Milwaukee Base Ball Club played an excellent match on Saturday afternoon, the two sides scoring 27 and 36 respectively. The game was contested with great spirit, and some capital play shown.—We will publish the score in our next.

THE PATTI CONCERTS.—The two grand Concerts of Mademoiselle PATTI are to be given on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. Of course they will attract large and brilliant audiences. Tickets can be secured in advance, without extra charge, at Professor HEMPSTED's Music Store, East Water Street, from and after to-day.

THE AMERICAN CORNET BAND.—This Band are to give a Concert at Madison, on the evening of the 28th instant, and will assist at Commencement at the University the day following. The Commencement exercises this year will be unusually interesting, and our Cornet Band will add not a little to the éclat of the occasion.

ST. CHARLES' HOTEL, MILWAUKEE.—Capt. [illegible], an old citizen of Milwaukee and well known to the people of Wisconsin, has taken what was formerly known as the "Hotel Wattstein" which he has [illegible] opened for the entertainment of the public.—The Captain is a gentleman, and intelligent and has travelled a great deal, and is just the kind of a person to enable him to "keep a hotel." A little advertisement [illegible] will be fully realized by those who may give them a practical test.—Manitowoc Herald.

YOU WILL observe by reading CALEB WALL's advertisement this morning that he will have an extensive stove sale on Wednesday next.

THE LIGHT GUARD.—The Milwaukee Light Guard had a Street Drill last Saturday evening. They were preceded by their Drum Corps, and looked and marched well.

Will be produced the Greatest Sensation Drama of the Day,
—BY—
DION BOURCICAULT!
As played in all the principal cities of the Union, and witnessed by Over one Million Persons!
Entitled the OCTOROON!
—OR—
LIFE IN LOUISIANA!

ILLUSTRATIVE OF SOUTHERN CHARACTER. Southern Scenes and Southern Homes. The Scene is laid on the Mississippi River, on the plantation of Terrebonne, belonging to Madame Peyton, the widow of the late Judge. THE TIME—THE PRESENT. The "OCTOROON" is the Southern name given to the "Eighth Blood," being the child of a Quadroon by a white.

ZOE—The Octoroon girl, the natural child of the Judge by a Quadroon Slave,...ADA PLUNKETT

THE ARGUMENT.

"Nothing extenuate or aught set down in malice."
"Tros, Tyriusve nihil nullo discrimine agetur."

ACT 1st.

Terrebonne Plantation.

SOUTHERN HOME UNDER A SOUTHERN SUN

The little darkies—"Dem wus dan skeeters." PETE, the old servant. GEORGE PEYTON, just arrived home. MADAME PEYTON, the patriarchal home. The good old JUDGE. SALEM SCUDDER's description of Zoe. The two Overseers. A confession. The strange relation and affection existing between Madame Peyton and her husband's natural daughter.—Plantation life, showing Southern waste and Northern thrift.

ZOE! The Octoroon!

Arrival of SUNNY SIDE and DORA. Dora Sunnyside, a portrait. George cannot understand the social position of Zoe. McCLOSKY arrives. The hard customer. PAUL, the yellow boy, and the Indian Hunter, WAH-NO-TE.

Strange affection between the savage and the boy slave, companions in the swamp hut. Paul and the Indian start off for the United States mail. Foreclosure in Terrebonne; the Plantation to be sold. The last hope of recovering the estate. Judge Peyton's Desk. McCloskey's love for the Octoroon. "I cannot marry you, but I will make you mistress of the richest estate in Louisiana." Diamond cut diamond. Scudder confesses his love for Zoe. McCloskey discovers the free papers of Zoe.

The Judgment. The Dark Hour. The Resolve.

ACT 2nd.

The Landing on the Mississippi.

THE LUMBER SHED.

Scudder returns to his old trade and takes a Photograph. Paul wants his picture, too. Pete brings terrible news. Zoe confirms it. George's declaration of love. "He does not know who I am." The "eighth blood." The Indian and Paul. The Daguerreotype. The savage's fears for the machine, he thinks it a deadly weapon. Paul sits for his portrait. The murder. The letter and the flight.—"Terrebonne will be sold and Zoe will be mine."—Grief of the Indian at the death of Paul.

ACT 3d.

PARLOR AND HALL AT TERREBONNE

Preparations for the sale. McCloskey claims the pound of flesh. The slaves to be sold. Pete's stump Speech to his "colored bredren." "Hush up dera, darkies." Darkie enthusiasm.

THE AUCTION SALE OF SLAVES.

RATTS, Mate of the steamer Magnolia. GRACE, the yellow girl and her children. "Buy me, mas'r." Pete on the auction stand—his indignation at going cheap.

Lot. No 4—The Octoroon Girl, ZOE.

Consternation of the slaves—Exciting Incidents—McCloskey bids. Assault by George. Bowie Knives and Revolvers. Dora's revenge on Zoe, who has taken away her lover. THE SALE OF THE OCTOROON.

ACT 4th.

DECK OF THE MAGNOLIA!

THE LANDING AT NIGHT.

"Roll on the cotton bales." "Take he guards under." "She's freighted down into the solid mud, and can't float—no matter, wood up, wood up, hang on to the safety valve, she'll crawl off on her paddles." Alarm. The Indian comes. Wah-no-tee, the murderer of Paul. The Yankee protects him.—The Indian points out Paul's grave, and the missing mail bags brought to light.

THE LYNCH TRIAL!

Scudder on Lynch Law. Unexpected but conclusive testimony. McClosky in a fix. The verdict and seizure of McClosky. His escape. THE SHED ON FIRE. "Cut the ropes." "Back her out." "Cast off." The murderer effects his escape—the Indian on his trail.

Burning of the Steamer Magnolia.

ACT 5th.

SCENE 1st. The Negro Quarters. Night. Zoe seeks her old Nurse, Dido. The night after the sale—the drink that cures the red fever. Life is so beautiful to one so young.

SCENE 2d. The Cane Brake—Sunrise. McClosky out of danger. His flight. Escape. The Indian on his track. The human bloodhound.

SCENE 3d. Red Cedar Swamp. Scudder and Pete on their way home. The man hunt. The wolf run down at last. The Indian and his victim. Pete's petition. Scudder protects the white man.

HIGHLY AFFECTING SCENE.

SCENE 4th and last. The Parlor of Terrebonne again. Zoe's adieu to her friends. The joyful news. Zoe's freedom.

THE OCTOROON GOES HOME.
THE VISION OF THE LANDING.
THE LAST THAT WAS SEEN OF THE INDIAN, WAH-NO-TEE.

The audience are specially requested not to leave their seats till the FALL OF THE CURTAIN.

NOTICE.—Owing to the production of the various incidents connected with the Play, and its occupying three hours in representation no other Play will be presented on the same evening.

"The Original Yankee Milk Dairy."

I AM NOW PREPARED TO FURNISH the good folks of the little "Village" of Milwaukee, with a sweet and pure article of milk, delivered morning and evening during the warm weather; and not being engaged in the butter-making business, my customers will be more likely to get the benefit of that little "yaller scum" so essential in making a good cup of coffee. I claim that there is as much difference between the milk that I sell and that stale imported stuff offered in market, as there is between a roasted turkey stuffed with delicious oysters and seasoned with fragrant spices, and a "boiled owl" stuffed with tar and seasoned with scotch snuff. Those wishing milk will please leave their orders with Messrs. Hunn & Crotty, No. 184 East Water street. T. P. ABBOTT,

AGENTS WANTED.

LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED IN every Town in Illinois, and all the other western and North-western States, for the sale of the wares manufactured by the AMERICAN POTTERY, of Peoria, Ill. They consist of Granite, and C. C. Table and Toilet ware, plain and decorated Vases, Ewers and ornamental ware; also, all varieties of Rockingham ware.

The Company have also commenced the manufacture of embossed Republican Club Ice Pitchers, Dining Pitchers, Bar Pitchers, Presentation Pitchers, ornamented with embossed devices illustrative of the events in the early life of the distinguished Republican Presidential nominee. Also, complete sets of embossed Lincoln Toilet Campaign ware.

The Company will also bring out embossed Squatter Sovereignty ware, with devices of border life, &c., should the result of the deliberations of the approaching Baltimore Convention warrant its production.

Orders for the Republican ware may be forwarded to the undersigned, at the Tremont House. Retail price of the embossed per pair will range from $5 to $15, according to size and style of finish.

The staple wares of the Company will be put into market at prices that will defy all competition with imported wares of like grades.

Park's Enamelled Building Material is manufactured by the Company, and will be coupled with the sale of their crockery ware if desired.

These agencies afford inducements to men of the right stamp scarcely if ever offered to the people of the West. Applications should be made without delay to the undersigned at the Tremont House, Chicago. THOS. W. JOHNSON,

The Convention at Baltimore.

The Democratic National Convention re-assembles at Baltimore to-day and an exciting time is anticipated on all hands. The friends of Mr. Douglas from the North and West will be present in great force, resolved to carry the nomination of their candidate—on the other hand it is believed that the South has abated nothing of its hostility to the Illinois Senator, and that the Administration will leave no stone unturned to compass his defeat. It is said that the Douglas managers [illegible] the Convention of the [illegible] seceders, and will fill their places with [illegible] delegates [illegible] the Convention [illegible] adjourn to Richmond, and there nominate candidates of their own.

The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says:

[illegible]

If the New York delegation oppose the [illegible] this correspondent, it must be with the foreknowledge that it will defeat the Douglas nomination. It is obvious that he cannot obtain a two-thirds vote in a Convention so constituted. The probability, therefore, is that his friends will [illegible] the admission of the Charleston seceders, even at the risk of driving out many, if not all of the regular Southern delegates. [illegible] The cry of the Democracy South is, "anybody but Douglas," and the Democracy North responds, "Douglas, or Nobody." The issue, however, is [illegible] every day, that Lincoln and Hamlin are [illegible].

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Lincoln's [illegible] of the [illegible] Republican Convention at Springfield, last month, [illegible] some thirty years ago [illegible]:

[illegible]

ANOTHER GENERAL BLACK ON SENATOR DOUGLAS.—The Covode Committee have brought to light the following letter, written by Hon. J. S. Black, Attorney General, to Mr. [illegible], U. S. Marshal of the Northern District of Illinois. The letter was written in August, 1858, during the memorable contest between Messrs. Lincoln and Douglas for the Senate of Illinois:

[illegible]

J. S. BLACK.

Mr. [illegible], for refusing to obey orders and oppose Douglas, was removed.

The Administration still adheres to the opinion expressed by Judge Black, that Mr. Douglas is more obnoxious than any Black Republican or Abolitionist.

Senator Hamlin's Record.

The [illegible] thus epitomizes the Congressional record of the Republican candidate for Vice President, on the Slavery question:

[illegible]

Mr. HAMLIN, like Mr. LINCOLN, was a consistent supporter of the principles of the Republican party, before the party itself was organized. Though one was a Whig and the other a Democrat, both were firm opponents of Slavery Extension, and on that issue, to the present day, have a clear record. Both have [illegible] the earliest and most effective advocates of the new organization.

PROGRESS OF ST. LOUIS.—A new census of St. Louis has just been taken, and though thought to be imperfect, affords an illustration of the growth of that thriving city:

Whites—Males 73,380	Females 68,256	Total	141,636
Colored—Free 1,019	Slaves 1,235	Total	2,254
Total population			143,890

The very small number of slaves in St. Louis is one of the significant signs of the times. The "irrepressible conflict" with Free Labor has driven the slaves out of town. The same cause is operating all over the State, to diminish the number of slaves and increase that of the free laborers. It is needless to say that the State at large, and the city of St. Louis in particular, gain immensely by the exchange.

Republican Mass Meeting at Beloit.

A great gathering of the Republicans of Old Rock and the adjacent counties of Illinois and Wisconsin, is to be held at Beloit, on the thirtieth of this month. The Beloit Journal says that Senator DOOLITTLE, the Hon. LYMAN TRUMBULL, the Hon. N. B. JUDD, of Illinois, Gov. RANDALL, Lieut. Gov. NOBLE, Hon. [illegible], Hon. S. D. HASTINGS—all the State officers, and also Hon. CARL SCHURZ, have given positive assurance that they will be present at the meeting. The Hon. THOS. CORWIN, Hon. J. F. POTTER, Hon. JOHN WENTWORTH and Hon. ANSON BURLINGAME may also be expected.

We learn that our friends in Rock are already beginning in earnest for the November election. They promise the largest kind of majorities for LINCOLN and HAMLIN.

SUMNER'S SPEECH.—The Republican Congressional Committee at Washington has published CHARLES SUMNER'S great speech in pamphlet of 32 pages—large, readable type. It is supplied to clubs and individuals at $2 per hundred copies. They can be ordered through any member of Congress, or of the Secretary of the Committee, GEORGE HARRINGTON, Washington, D. C.

Commerce of New York.

The imports of foreign goods and merchandise at New York for the month of May ($16,893,951) are only about two-thirds as large as for the corresponding month of last year, and are below the general expectations. The falling off is greatest in receipts of dry goods. The imports for the first five months of 1860 ($98,617,283) are nearly seven millions below the corresponding aggregate of last year, and also about as much below the imports for the same period of 1858. The imports for the first eleven months of the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1859, are $234,[illegible],029, against $196,177,486 for the same period of 1858-'59, and $131,353,493 for the same period of 1857-'58.

The exports from New York to foreign ports for the month of May are $18,006,317; $5,529,936 being in specie—being less in specie and larger in produce and merchandise than for the corresponding period of last year. The exports for the five months of 1860 are $47,311,050, $21,737,076 being in specie—showing a decrease from the corresponding period of last year of $3,100,000 in specie, or over 50 per cent., and a gain in produce and merchandise of over $9,000,000. The exports for the first eleven months of the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1859, are $112,020,006, $49,455,566 being in specie—an increase over the corresponding period of the year previous of about $10,100,000 in specie, and of about $16,500,000 in produce and merchandise. "This," says the Journal of Commerce, "is a very handsome showing, and, if it continues through the next few months, we cannot see what is to prevent the rapid recovery of the West from its late financial depression."

The Tenth of September.

The tenth of September next will be celebrated in great style at Cleveland, when the statue of the lamented and glorious Perry is to be inaugurated. A great gathering of the people will be there.

The Legislature of Rhode Island have accepted an invitation to be present, the Governor of Rhode Island and staff, and the Light Guards, of Providence, have also signified their intention to be in Cleveland and participate in the celebration. Military companies from Buffalo, Erie, Dunkirk and Detroit are invited, and one from Columbus and one from Cincinnati.

Dr. USHER PARSONS, of Providence, R. I., who was surgeon on board Perry's Flag Ship during the engagement, has accepted an invitation to be present, and will give a description of the battle.

GEORGE BANCROFT, the eminent historian, will deliver the address.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES has been invited to prepare a poem to be read at the celebration.

A general invitation has been extended to the Knights of the United States Court in the West, and to all surviving officers and soldiers of the war of 1812.

FIRE AT MANITOWOC.—The steam saw-mill and planing machine, owned by P. [illegible] & Co., at Manitowoc, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday last. The Tribune states the loss at $3,000.

Unprejudiced Opinions.

The Louisville Journal, supporting Bell and Everett, speaks as follows of Abraham Lincoln:

"Mr. L. is a genial, delightful and high-toned gentleman whose pleasant hospitality we have enjoyed, and although we think him in great error on some of his political opinions, we have as much confidence in his patriotism as we have in that of any man except ourselves—we being the only persons that we can know to be patriotic. If Lincoln and Douglas were the only candidates in the pending contest, we should, no doubt, decide [illegible] between them; and yet we believe that Lincoln is a much more honest and straightforward politician and man than Douglas, and that he would act as President with a sincerer regard for the purity of the government and the welfare of the nation."

And the Baltimore Patriot—also Bell and Everett—thus comments on Mr. Lincoln's letter of acceptance:

If brevity be the soul of wit, then Mr. Lincoln is the wittiest man of the present day. Vide his acceptance of the Republican nomination.

Again, if wit be common sense expressed in the fewest words, as some French author defines it, then Mr. Lincoln is more sensible than any of our public men, who have spent themselves upon record for the last forty years. Vide the letter of acceptance.

Whatever may be thought of the sentiments of Mr. Lincoln's letter, there can be no doubt about its brevity and transparency. There is no dodging of the questions put in issue. He commits himself to them and pins himself upon them square and fair.

Now let the democratic nominees, for it is certain there will be two of them, go and do likewise, and the country will then be able to judge knowingly.

SOUND SUGGESTIONS.—The following remarks from Mr. ANTHONY of Rhode Island (so long the accomplished editor of the Providence Journal) in relation to the subsidies granted the Washington Constitution, and other Democratic organs, are both forcible and truthful:

"And this is the last piece of advice which I give to our friends on the other side of the Chamber. It is very valuable advice, and I ask nothing for it. I know something about the management of a newspaper. It is almost the only matter that I do know anything about; and for the truth of the maxim which I am about to declare, I appeal to those Senators on both sides of the Chamber, who, if they have not had greater experience than I have in that honorable profession, have reflected greater credit upon it. It is this—a paper that cannot support itself, cannot be of any service to a party; to depend upon it is like leaning upon a man who cannot stand; to spend money upon it is like wasting the breath that attempts to kindle a stone. The day when such papers were made has passed—a day has long since arrived when a paper, to be of service to a party, must first establish and maintain itself. It must acquire a character for the reliability of its facts and the candor of its arguments—it must be, in a considerable degree, independent of party, before a party can derive any great value from its services. Of all the foolish expenditures that are made for political purposes, none are more useless and wasteful than those for the support of the class of newspapers that very few read and that nobody believes."

Navigation Opened on the Red River of the North.

J. C. BURBANK, Esq., arrived in this city last night, from a trip to the Red River. He has placed in our hands an extra sheet issued from the office of the Nor'-Wester, at Fort Garry, on the arrival of the steamer Anson Northup at that place, being her first trip this season. We copy the following extracts:

Return of the Boat—Successful Trip all the way—News Items from Georgetown—From Fort Garry to St. Paul in Nine Days—Arrival of Mr. Burbank.

NOR'-WESTER OFFICE, FRIDAY, June 1.

Shortly after eleven o'clock this morning the booming of cannon at Fort Garry and the shrill sound of the steam-whistle announced the return of the Anson Northup. The news set the people in commotion and before long streams of anxious individuals started for the Fort—the boat was already lying, with the Stars and Stripes waving at the bow and the Union Jack at the stern. The Royal Standard had also been hoisted in the Fort, and the combination of bright colors and the speedy congregation of crowds gave the liveliest appearance to the scene. The boat was all the more welcome because she was unexpected. Every person who had come from Georgetown since she [illegible] represented the navigation of Goose Rapids as an impossibility. It was then with the greatest satisfaction we heard that, contrary to the expectation of the most sanguine, the boat had not only been able to reach Georgetown—a long distance above the Rapids—but that in returning with the freight steamed past them without once touching the bottom.

Amongst the passengers by this boat was her enterprising owner, Mr. J. C. Burbank, from whom we received particulars of the trip. It seems that being insufficiently manned, the Anson Northup remained for some time at Goose Rapids, [illegible]; but that as soon as the supplies [illegible] which Mr. Burbank had brought through with him from St. Paul, [illegible] from Georgetown, the boat was [illegible] as completely as the short time left at the disposal of the party would permit. She was then freighted with all the goods which had [illegible] at the post, amounting to about thirty tons, and taking on board the passengers, [illegible] Tuesday evening last for Red River Settlement. By that time the water had risen considerably, and as we have already stated the boat was carried over the most dangerous places in the river without the slightest impediment.

The river continues to rise rapidly, though for the season it is unusually low; but were it as shallow as when the boat went up, Mr. Burbank is sanguine of his ability to navigate it with a heavy cargo. He states that it is at least one hundred per cent. better than he expected to find it when he left St. Paul. From Red Lake River to Fort Garry, the river, he says, at all times has a depth of water sufficient to float the largest craft on the Mississippi, and between Red Lake River and Georgetown, by a small expenditure, [illegible] to render the navigation satisfactory throughout. Mr. Burbank is prepared to incur that expenditure, and has already given instructions for the erection of wing dams at Goose Rapids. In the meantime he is having a barge constructed above the Rapids to lighten the boat in case the water again recedes. So that he is prepared for every contingency, and is willing to [illegible] for the transport of goods to and from the Settlement, and guarantees their safe arrival at their destination during the present summer. This at once relieves the people of the Settlement of further difficulty in regard to transportation and substitutes an easy and expeditious way of reaching the States for the slow and laborious one of [illegible].

Mr. Burbank assures us that in future the boat will be able to make the round trip between this and Georgetown in ten days, leaving Fort Garry every tenth day. Nothing will prevent her running a good part of the distance by night, and it is believed she will be able to run up in four days, and return in three—leaving ample time for shipping and unloading freight. He has caused all the rivers between Georgetown and St. Paul to be bridged, and a close connection will be made with the boat by stage. [illegible] calculates upon being able to reach St. Paul in less than nine days after leaving Fort Garry. His complement is 150 wagons, in brigades of 25 each, and these [illegible] running with freight from St. Paul to Georgetown.—St. Paul Pioneer, June 10.

LATEST SPORT [illegible].—The [illegible] Democratic papers are reviving the old accusation of "[illegible]" against the Republican Party, and [illegible] of the change, that at the Chicago Convention "Judge Jessup [illegible] to be stricken out from the platform the word 'National,' [illegible] before 'Republican.'"—Now, we are told [illegible] that Judge Jessup [illegible] nothing of the kind [illegible].

When the Platform had been read and adopted, Judge Jessup [illegible] pertinently the platform speak of the "National Republican party." He thought there was no Republican party that was not National, and he did not think it advisable to intimate by implication that there was a [illegible]. He moved, then, that that party be spoken of in the platform as simply the "Republican party," which every one knew was national. The amendment was agreed to by common consent.—Chicago Democrat.

THE LAKE SUPERIOR TRADE.—The [illegible] steamers now in the Lake Superior trade have all they can do to accommodate the rapidly increasing traffic between the Lake Erie ports and those on Lake Superior. Last year it was estimated that the freight passing through the Sault St. Marie canal amounted in value to eight and three-quarter millions of dollars, and this year it is thought that it will reach eleven or twelve millions.

CARSTANG VS. SHAW—END OF THE GREAT BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.—Judge [illegible] yesterday overruled the motion for a new trial, in the case of Effie C. Carstang vs. Henry Shaw. This we suppose is the end of the matter in the courts, and the result for the plaintiff is considered decidedly disastrous. The verdict for the defendant [illegible] costs will be imposed on the plaintiff. An appeal to the Supreme Court is the only course left for the plaintiff, but from what we can learn, we judge that such a step under the present circumstances, is highly improbable.—St. Louis Bulletin.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature.

TO MARRIED LADIES,

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills are invaluable, as they will bring on the monthly period with regularity. Ladies who have been disappointed in the use of other Pills can place the utmost confidence in Dr. Cheeseman's Pills doing all that they represent to do.

NOTICE.

There is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing a PECULIAR RESULT. The condition referred to is PREGNANCY—the result, MISCARRIAGE. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it.

Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail by enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, [illegible], New York City.

DISEASES OF THE LIVER.

YOU MAY ALWAYS KNOW WHEN your liver is out of order, or when you are what is called bilious, by any of the following symptoms: pain in the side and back, dizziness, dull headache, a bad taste in the mouth in the morning, sallow colored complexion, yellowish tint in the eyes, costiveness, or diarrhœa of slimy dark color, low spirit and dismal forebodings. It is acknowledged by all physicians and others who have seen their action, that Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are a perfect cure for all these affections. So pleasantly do they search out and drive away the seeds of disease, that all persons living in a country where Fever and Ague and all other bilious diseases are prevalent, will find they should never be without them. From two to four Pills each night on going to bed, will in a short time drive away the sickly yellow look of bilious persons, and bring to their cheeks a beautiful glow of perfect health.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers. my29,61ldweow1m

EARLY AFFECTIONS.

A TALE OF THE SEA COAST.

BY WILL H. MORRISON.

CHAPTER V.

"And as they met, as I sat embowered
In woody chambers of the starry night,—
Spirits it about them ministered,
And God approving, blessed the holy joy."
—POLLOCK.

I was yet early in Autumn. The afternoon was mild, calm and soberly majestic as Autumn, with all its profusion of mellow richness, its luxuriant and cherished associations, and its more pensive anticipations, most frequently is. The wind scarcely stirred the many tinted leaves; yet even its whisper; though low and calm, was sadly plaintive. The abrupt and pillared fragments of the clouds, or their massy and voluminous ranges, slowly floating or sleeping in stately repose, and beginning to reflect the coloring rays of the descending sun, gave an air of solemn magnificence to the expanded arch of heaven. A warm admirer of nature's ever-varied, ever delighting beauties, Alice Clifford had wandered forth to yield her rapt soul to the thoughts and feelings awakened by the sublimity and grandeur of such a scene. Unconsciously she bent her steps toward that secluded vale, which had been the frequent resort of her earlier years. A solitary footpath, untrodden save by few, passed through it, and opened up a more direct communication with the highway. As she proceeded along the path, pausing oft, and gazing around her, then resuming her walk, she perceived, at a little distance, some person approaching. A slight tremor passed over her frame; or she supposed it might be Emery Bellmont come to urge her to fix the day of their union, and, though she meant one day to do so, yet with that sweet maidenly delicacy so charming in woman, she trembled but to think of it, and always endeavored to have it postponed. As he came nearer, however, she perceived he was not the person she feared yet hoped to meet.—The stranger seemed to be in the elastic entrance of manhood—youth was still about him. He was dressed in a rich military uniform. A medal depended from his breast, bearing the impress of the coat of arms of the United States. His step and air spoke a man who had been used to command, to meet and despise danger, and to undergo peril, toil and privation with indifference. The sun and wind of the desert had bronzed his cheek to a darker hue than his natural complexion, as appeared by his bright blue, yet keen and intelligent eye, and the shade of his thickly clustering locks.

Alice Clifford, absorbed in her own thoughts, had but slightly noticed him, when he accosted her, and inquired the way to Woodvale, the name Mr. Clifford gave his place. She pointed it out, and seemed about to continue on her aimless ramble, when the stranger hesitated, stood still, gazed on her a moment, then exclaimed. "Alice Clifford! my own Alice! Do you not remember Harry Emerson!" and then clasping her in his arms, held her to his throbbing bosom.—Overpowered with a sudden rush of tumultuous feelings, she remained for sometime breathless, and nearly fainting in his arms.—As she recovered, she gently disengaged herself, and looking upon him with a tender and mournful expression of countenance, burst into tears. Thinking that this was but the natural expression of pleasure at such an unexpected meeting, he would have renewed his endearments, in order to soothe her agitation; but she gently repelled him, and in a low, faltering voice, said, "Harry, we never thought to have seen you more."

"But I have returned, my dearest Alice—returned from many a scene of peril—once more to see my dearest sister, as I fondly called her in my boyhood, and to try if I might win her permission to address her by a still dearer title."

"That title Harry," said she, in a faint tone, "is the dearest by which you may ever address me. Indeed by your absence, and the want of any information concerning you I thought—I thought that you were—that you could return no more; and I have listened to the addresses of another, I am, though not his wedded, his betrothed bride. I have plighted my faith—my honor is at stake—I will and must redeem my pledge."

He shrunk and staggered as if he had received a deadly wound, leaned against a tree, pressed his hand forcibly upon his heart and head, and fixed his eyes upon her with a gaze of wild and frenzied astonishment; while a quivering thrill of mortal agony shook his whole frame, and manly countenance. At length he spoke, and his words were low, broken, and full of melancholy tenderness—"And it is thus we meet, after an absence so long, so full of griefs and dangers? I left thee, Alice, and my tongue had not uttered, could not utter, what my heart so deeply felt; yet I fondly supposed that you could not but have perceived and understood my emotion I joined the American Army," continued he, feeling a melancholy satisfaction in tracing his progress, though those feelings seemed now all requitted, and those hopes all withered forever—"I joined the American Army, and our march was soon in another clime, I saw their beauties; but I saw them only to despise them. My heart was in the lands of my fathers. Often our steps were on the field of slaughter; and at times, too, disasters pressed us hard. But dangers or sufferings moved not me—there was a mounting spirit, a warm hope within me, and I shrunk not from the combat, nor drooped beneath privation.

Uncertainty was around us, and our communication with the States was unfrequent and interrupted, yet, though far distant, thou wert to my soul like its hopes of Heaven, and it would not resign thee. Our course was bent to Mexico, and a new world of strange, mysterious and awful objects was around us; but there, amidst the ruins of temples and obelisks, even then I could not refrain, in the midst of my excited wonderment, from thinking upon my native New England, her healthy hills, the quietude and happiness of her woody dales, the wild music of her brawling mountain-steams, and oh! dearer than all! the beautiful, the gentle being whose smile had shed bliss upon all my previous existence. When the tropical heat smote upon us, hot as the fiery breath of a furnace, I thought of the cool invigorating breeze of my native mountains. And in that glorious day," continued he, his warrior spirit kindling within him as the scene rose bright upon his memory and making him for a brief moment forget his sorrows in its high excitement, "in that glorious day when we landed at Vera Cruz, while shots and shells rained around us, fierce and frequent as hail in a winter storm—when we scaled the walls, in stern unanswering silence, till our bayonets, resistless as the red, gleaming lightnings of heaven, burst and destroyed the astonished bands of Mexico; or in that glorious and bloody day, when the "stars and stripes" waved proudly over Chapultepec; In the midst of the indescribable horrors and wild headlong frenzy of fight, of victory, and of pursuit—thy image she a softening ray in my heart, and withheld my hand from the feeble or the unresisting foe. "But why enumerate feelings and hopes? In the midst of all my scenes of danger and of honor, my only source of support and consolation was to think of thee and of hoped return to the land of my fathers. And now to have returned, and to have found thee thus—the betrothed of another! O Alice, amidst all my wanderings there never ceased to dwell within my heart a longing desire for that pure domestic bliss, the first of reciprocal affection; and I ventured to hope that it might have been found in thee, innocent playmate of my childhood. That hope has left me too. Now, I—but why should I disturb the happiness of one who is dearer to me than my own existence? I shall leave you, Alice, at once and forever; and may he whom you love be to you all that I could have hoped to have been!" Again he bent on her one long impassioned look; but its character was indeed different. It spoke of the interminable attachment, the soft regard, the tender affection, and deep devotedness of one who regarded not self, so that he might minister to the happiness of her whom his whole heart loved so fondly. That one look passed through her whole frame like a warm glow of young life; it awakened at once, in full power, all the pure fervor of that affection which had formerly quickened the trembling pulsations of her youthful heart. Though years had passed, and a considerable change had taken place in her situation, and in her mental capacities; yet had her first love remained in the innermost recess of her bosom, pure as the elemental fire in the rays of the sun. It was indeed hidden for a time by one of a less celestial nation; but it mingled not with it, nor could it be extinguished—it was the love of the soul.—That look of pure ethereal love, beaming from the expressive eye of Harry Emerson, had rekindled its sleeping embers; and she felt that Emery Bellmont held but a very secondary place in her affection. A throb of unutterable anguish swelled her heart as she reflected upon her present circumstances.—But her high sense of honor pointed out her line of conduct.

"Leave me, Harry!" said she, with a sad, but resolute voice; "leave me, for I cannot now be yours; and to listen to you in that strain is improper in the destined wife of another. We must meet no more; but, wherever you go, or whatever may be your fate, if it will console you in any manner know that Alice Clifford would have died a thousand deaths rather than done what she has done, had she known that her first lover still survived."

Just as she finished speaking these words, and before the fervor of her meaning and utterance had left her quivering lips, Emery Bellmont advanced and stood before the lovers. His face was deadly pale, and his fixed features and compressed lips betrayed the emotion which he was evidently struggling to suppress. He had seen the first meeting and embrace of the lovers; and thinking that he had a right to know who dared to assume such familiarity with his affianced bride, he approached unseen, so near as to overhear all their conversation. This he was easily able to do, from the nature of the place, and the engrossing power of their feelings, which rendered them insensible to all around them. He soon learned that though he should claim and obtain the hand of Alice Clifford, it was no longer in her power to bestow her heart. It would be superfluous to say that this discovery agonized his bosom more keenly than all that had ever befallen him. But his heart had learned that there was more real gratification in the exercise of noble and generous virtue and self denial, than in all the pleasures that could flow from the enjoyment even of life's dearest blessings. His love for Alice Clifford had taught him generosity and her words, when she knew not that he heard the sacrifice they vowed to make; for whom, that sacrifice was to be made, confirmed him in his purpose. He took her trembling hand in his, pressed it fervently to his lips, and spoke:—"Heaven knows my dearest Alice! with what sincerity I have loved you, and how fondly I would have made you mine.—My heart, before I loved you, was a deadened, selfish thing. If it now has any virtue, any sense generosity, it is to you that it owes them. Let me prove my gratitude. I have heard all that has passed since your meeting with your first lover. To him I resign any claims which I might have conceived that I had upon you. Receive, sir, this highly valued hand from me. May you both be as happy as your brightest hopes can picture, in the auspicious return and the steady continuance of that purest, sweetest of human passions, "First Love."

And now gentle reader my tale is told, and—

"May the passage prove,
Of what's presented, worthy of your love,
And favor, as was aimed, and we have all
That can in compass of our wishes fall."

NEW ARRANGEMENTS.

HUNN & CROSBY,

No. 184 East Water St., Milwaukee,
Two doors north of Uncle Ben's Hat Store.

TAKE THIS OCCASION TO ANNOUNCE to their friends, and the public at large, that they have removed from their old quarters to their present location, for the purpose of obtaining more ample accommodations for their business, and to keep pace with the requirements of their trade. We have just made heavy additions to our stock, which makes ours the best assorted Family Grocery in town, and we intend to be in future, as we always have been in the past, the first in the market with every novelty of the season. We are receiving goods every week from the East, thereby always keeping our stock fresh and full. Everything pertaining to the trade can be found at our establishment, and we are prepared to sell at wholesale as well as retail, on as favorable terms as any concern in town. Teas, Sugars, Coffees, Dried Fruits, Hermetically Sealed Fruits, and every other article usually found in first-class family groceries, are sold by us, and always warranted as represented. We will sell you a better Tea for fifty cents, than you can buy anywhere else in town for seventy five, and as good a one for forty, as our windy cotemporaries, who make such a blow on TEAS, will or can sell for fifty. We mean what we say, and stand ready to verify it every hour in the day, and every day in the week. We make it a point never to be undersold, and want it distinctly understood that we do our business upon that principle.

Country merchants can always sort up their stock with us, to a good advantage. We will sell you goods by the package as low as any of the wholesale dealers down town.

Butter and Eggs are received by us daily, from our agents in the country.

☞ TERMS CASH.

We cordially invite our friends and customers, and the public generally, to call and see us in our new institution, and make an examination of our goods and prices. Particular attention paid to orders.

St. Nicholas Hotel,

BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.

WHEN COMPLETED, SIX YEARS ago, the St. Nicholas was universally pronounced the most magnificent, convenient and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then, it remains today—without a rival in sumptuousness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests, including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the traveling public has been omitted in its plan, or is neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its homelike comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the proprietors.

SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE,

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned "SOYER," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known house of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite sauce in England and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try MONS. SOYER'S new sauce, entitled the 'Sultana's Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of SLOW AND WEAK DIGESTION."—The Lancet.

"Savory, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the genius of Soyer."—Observer.

"A most valuable adjunct to Fish, Flesh and Fowl, and should have a place on every table."—Atlas.

SAVE YOUR CARPETS!

THE GREAT ENQUIRY HAS BEEN made for a number of years by housekeepers, What shall we put under our carpets to protect them from wear and moth? This grand, valuable discovery was affected and patented April 1st, 1856, by J. R. HARRINGTON, and is called Harrington's Patent Carpet Lining.

This article having proved its utility has now come into general use, so much so that scarcely a carpet will be put down without it, and its cheapness puts it within the reach of every family. It is warranted to add fifty per cent to the durability of Carpets, Oil Cloths and Matting. The details of its merits are too numerous to mention. It can be obtained at any of the principal Carpet Stores throughout the United States, and is manufactured only by the New York Carpet Lining Company. Also, extensive manufacturers of Mammoth Cotton Batting, and Comfortables. The best and cheapest that have ever been introduced in the market.

Office 11 Dey St.; Salesroom 440 Pearl St., New York.

All orders of information requested will be attended to with promptness and dispatch.

Richardson's Irish Linens, Damaks,

DIAPERS, &C.—CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm, J. N. RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN, as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods.

This caution is rendered essentially necessary, as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable while purchasers can be imposed on with Goods of a worthless character.

SANFORD'S

Liver Invigorator,

NEVER DEBILITATES.

LIVER INVIGORATOR

IT IS COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS, and has become an established fact, a Standard Medicine, known and approved by all that have used it, and is now resorted to with confidence in all the diseases for which it is recommended.

It has cured thousands within the last two years who had given up all hopes of relief, as the numerous unsolicited certificates in my possession show.

The dose must be adapted to the temperament of the individual taking it, and used in such quantities as to act gently on the Bowels.

Let the dictates of your judgment guide you in the use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR, and it will cure LIVER COMPLAINTS, BILIOUS ATTACKS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, SUMMER COMPLAINTS, DYSENTERY, DROPSY, SOUR STOMACH, HABITUAL COSTIVENESS, CHOLIC, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, CHOLERA INFANTUM, FLATULENCE, JAUNDICE, FEMALE WEAKNESSES, and may be used successfully as an ORDINARY FAMILY MEDICINE. It will cure SICK HEADACHE, (as thousands can testify,) IN TWENTY MINUTES, IF TWO OR THREE TEASPOONFULS ARE TAKEN at commencement of attack.

ALL WHO USE IT ARE GIVING THEIR TESTIMONY IN ITS FAVOR.

☞ MIX WATER IN THE MOUTH WITH THE INVIGORATOR, AND SWALLOW BOTH TOGETHER.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

PURE VEGETABLE EXTRACTS, AND PUT UP IN GLASS CASES, AIR TIGHT, AND WILL KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE.

CATHARTIC PILLS

THE FAMILY CATHARTIC PILL is a gentle but active Cathartic which the proprietor has used in his practice more than twenty years.

The constantly increasing demand from those who have long used the PILLS and the satisfaction which all express in regard to their use, has induced me to place them within the reach of all.

The Profession well know that different Cathartics act on different portions of the bowels.

The FAMILY CATHARTIC PILL has, with due reference to this well established fact, been compounded from a variety of the purest Vegetable Extracts, which act alike on every part of the alimentary canal, and are GOOD and SAFE in all cases where a Cathartic is needed, such as DERANGEMENTS of the STOMACH, SLEEPINESS, PAINS IN THE BACK and LOINS, COSTIVENESS, PAIN AND SORENESS OVER THE WHOLE BODY, from sudden cold, which frequently, if neglected, end in a long course of Fever, LOSS OF APPETITE, A CREEPING SENSATION OF COLD OVER THE BODY, RESTLESSNESS, HEADACHE, or WEIGHT IN THE HEAD, all INFLAMMATORY DISEASES, WORMS IN CHILDREN OR ADULTS, RHEUMATISM, a great PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD and many diseases to which flesh is heir, too numerous to mention in this advertisement. DOSE, 1 to 3.

PRICE 30 CENTS.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR AND FAMILY CATHARTIC PILLS are retailed by Druggists generally, and sold wholesale by the Trade in all the large towns.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR FROM
THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH

In the more advanced stages of it extends to the stomach, ensuing

CANKER

DYSPEPSIA

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then on the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the fibres of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiary adapted to

CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also that most excruciating of diseases the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. Yours truly,

DONALD KENNEDY.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,
(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)
FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, (discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris,) is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a purely SCIENTIFIC PREPARATION, and acts with INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used wherever there exists a suspicion of the disease, PREVENT ITS DEVELOPMENT, and thus act, as a preservative with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to small-pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail."—Dr. Churchill.

"I have used your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect."—C. Fisher, M. D. Lynville, Ill.

"I have been astonished in witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was just entering the last stage of tubercular consumption."—S. Moses, M. D., Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

"They exert an important remedial influence over the tubercular disease by improving the nervous strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Rust, Morristown, N. J.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medication combined."—Dr. Geo. W. Harris, Columbus, O.

"If, on the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes daily about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, he will speedily find himself in the enjoyment of such health as he, perhaps, had never known in his life before."

"Winchester's Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggists' Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence and devotes himself enthusiastically to these preparations in all their variety of combination. * * * Prepared strictly by Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"LOWELL, O., July 5, 1859.—I have had several cases given up by attending physicians who are now exempt from all the symptoms of pulmonary disease.—I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided success. It was regarded as hopeless by physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the 'old treatment.' I am now able to ride, in attending the sick, as many miles, perhaps, in a day, as any other physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D.

"The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large class of affections resulting from loss of nervous force."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,

IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites may be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure"; is the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use", and is prepared according to his original Formula.

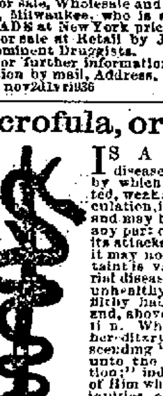
Scrofula, or King's Evil,



IS A CONSTITUTIONAL disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this blood becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease upon any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there any one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which engenders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous: their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

AYER'S

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla

The most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eruptive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Blains and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Syphilitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Debility, and, indeed, all complaints arising from Vitiated or Impure Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Departure of the Japanese for N. Y.

PHILADELPHIA, June 16—9 P. M.

The Japanese left the hotel at 9:30 for the wharf in excellent humor. On their arrival at the wharf they were greeted by an immense crowd, gathered to take a farwell look. The steamer was gaily decorated with streamers and the shipping put on its holiday suit. All Camden turned out to see the strangers, and it was with difficulty that they were able to reach the Park. A special train left at 10 o'clock for Amboy. At every station on the road a crowd assembled to welcome them.

Yesterday the Japanese visited the Custom House, Cornelius & Baker's extensive chandelier manufactory, and other places of interest.

The servants have been engaged all day in packing up, and their apartments are kept strictly private.

The Great Eastern.

NEW YORK, June 16—3 P. M.

Decision on the Schooner Wanderer.

BOSTON, June 16—3 P. M.

Judge Sprague of the U. S. District Court has given a lengthy decision, condemning the schooner Wanderer as forfeited, for being engaged in the slave trade.

The Steamer Plantaganet.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., June 15—8 P. M.

The steamer Plantaganet, of the Liverpool and Jamaica line, was the one which passed Cape Race at 7 o'clock this evening. She is bound to New York—probably for coal.

She was boarded by the news yacht of the Associated Press here.

Her advices are anticipated.

Arrival of a Captured Slaver.

NEW YORK, June 16—3 P. M.

The slave brig Falmouth, previous reported captured by the U. S. sloop-of-war Portsmouth off Porto Praga, arrived here to-day in charge of Lieut. Ablett.

Sailing of Steamers.

NEW YORK, June 16—9 P. M.

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 16—9 P. M.

HOUSE.—Mr. Sherman reported back the Senate resolution to adjourn Monday week, with an amendment substituting Wednesday next.

The confusion was excessive.

Mr. Farnsworth said if the members of the Baltimore Convention were to control here, he would move that the door keeper let them all in.

Mr. Barksdale said these gentlemen were not creating the disturbance. The members of both sides of the House were doing it.

The amendment was disagreed to by 90 against 96. An ineffectual effort was made to table the subject.

The Senate resolution was adopted, 123 against 58.

The Covode Committee reported.

Mr. Train made a report from the Covode committee, signed by Messrs. Covode, Olin and Train. It sets out by speaking of the embarrassments which attended their labors and stating that the President saw fit to send in a solemn protest, in the way of a proclamation to the world, that the whole power of the Executive instead of being exercised to forward an investigation into administrative affairs would be exercised to protect those who might choose to disobey the summons of the of the Speaker of the House, or who having obeyed the summons might refuse to testify before the committee, who quote precedents to show that they have felt at liberty to investigate the conduct of the President or any other officer of the Government. In regard to the Lecompton Constitution, they say the country will pause with astonishment over the shameless record. They exhibit, 1st—The emphatic and indubitable pledges of the President, as well before as after his election, and the pledges of all his Cabinet, to the doctrine of leaving the people of Kansas perfectly free to adopt their own institutions and their own laws.

2d—The deliberate violation of these pledges, and the attempt to convert Kansas into a slave State by means of forgeries, fraud and force.

3d—The removal and attempt to disgrace the sworn agents of the Administration, who refused to violate their pledges.

4th—The open employment of money in the passage of the Lecompton and English bills through Congress.

5th—The admission of parties engaged in the work of electioneering this scheme, that they received enormous sums for this purpose.

6th. The offer to purchase newspaper editors with extravagant sums of money.

7th. The proscription of Democrats of high standing who would not support the English and Lecompton bills.

The witnesses on these points were Gov. Walker, Wendell, Bean and F. W. Walker, and fortunately for the cause of truth, the evidence of these witnesses does not, the committee say, depend upon their own admissions.

It is proven by the book of records of the Bank of the Metropolis, which contains the names of those who conduct their business there, and by the unconscious contradiction of the witnesses.

The testimony of Forney is not to be overlooked in this connection, while it shows a general willingness on the part of the President to subsidize the public press. It proves also that there was a strong determination to buy all who could be bought, and to crush out the honest men who could not be bribed or reduced to an affiliation with the Administration in its Lecompton policy. Forney was offered printing of the Post Office blanks, worth at least $80,000, on the condition that he should, by an editorial, no longer than a man's hand, support the Administration in its Kansas policy.

The Committee refer to the fact that 24 Democratic members of the House opposed the Kansas policy; this number dwindled down to 12 and enough were found to carry the bill through the House. The Committee say it had always been supposed the war in Washington was gotten up for the purpose of fastening slavery on Kansas.

The next point examined involved the abuses in the Philadelphia Custom House, and other public offices, in regard to which the Committee say there were improper combinations among federal officers with the view to control the sentiments and prejudices of the people in their primary political movements.

The improper and corrupt use of the public money in the employment of persons in the public service, in violation of the laws and Government regulations, and the frauds on the part of officers of the Government to defeat the statute of the U. S., enacted for the purpose of protecting the public Treasury from unjust claims and improvident and unnecessary expenditures.

The witnesses are John Bryant, Francis and Samuel B. Rice, Francis McCormick, John F. Schell, Andrew Brumaker, George Downey, Patrick Caffrey, John Dunn, and others.

The committee say Collector Baker is subject to the highest censure.

Under want of time to procure investigation into the management of the Post Office, they examined the subject of the executive binding, saying Mr. Pettibone's was wrong in the matter and the patronage received in the hands of the President's friend and most efficient Wendell.

The committee say the evidence proves beyond a doubt that the prices paid for the executive printing and binding were utterly disproportionate to work done.

The committee also allude to the employment of men to carry elections. In view of all these facts and circumstances attending this investigation from its reception to the present time, there seems a marked propriety in closing this report with a quotation from a speech from Mr. Buchanan in condemnation of corruption.

Mr Train moved that 50,000 copies of the report be printed. Referred to the printing committee.

Mr. Wilson was privileged to make a minority report on Monday morning, he not having had time to prepare it, as the testimony was not closed till Thursday.

The House took up the Kentucky election case. The majority of the Committee on Elections had reported in favor of Mr. Anderson's retaining the seat.

SENATE.—A number of private bills were passed.

Mr. Hale introduced a bill to prevent the unlawful detention of mail matter.

Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution to establish quarantine laws in relation to the importation of diseased cattle into any of the States.

Mr. Sumner moved to take up the House bill to raise the mission to Sardinia.

The bill was then taken up, on the motion, and passed.

The resolution in regard to public printing was taken up.

Mr Davis offered an amendment of the minority report, which provides that the printing be done by contract and also limits the amount of printing to be done.

After discussion the amendment was disagreed to—ayes 18, nays 29.

The question was then taken on Mr. Gurley's bill, providing for a government printing office, and it was agreed to—ayes 30, nays 14.

The naval appropriation bill was considered, and a large number of amendments added.

Mr. Wilson offered an amendment to use part of the appropriation for the purchase of three steamers, to act in the suppression of the slave trade on the coast of Africa.

Mr. Gwin offered, as a substitute, that the President be authorized to ask the British government to enter into a contract to make provisions for the return of each captured African, as long as the 8th article of the Ashburton treaty remains in force; and if the British government refuse to enter into a contract, then the President shall signify the wish of this government to have the treaty abrogated.

He said the British Government did not send back Africans, but kept them and made them useful.

Mr. Wilson said the Slave trade was increasing; it was a fact that vessels were fitted out at New York, and left that port with the knowledge of the U. S. officers, who received money for the same. He thought it was his duty to try and put a stop to it.

Mr. Green thought the government had no right to put a police force on the coast of Africa. It had no right to interfere with the slave trade between Africa and Brazil or Cuba, but only to prevent the importation to our shores. We might well call on the British government to end a treaty compelling any such action.

Mr. Hemphill opposed the amendment of the Senator from California. He thought there was no information here that the British government made slaves of the captured Africans.

Mr. Fessenden said if gents wished to abrogate this treaty with Great Britain, let them say so, and not try to dodge the question in any way.

More discussion on the captured African question followed, when Senate adjourned to Monday, 11 o'clock.

New York Matters, &c.

NEW YORK, June 16—9 P. M.

The Vanderbilt sailed this P. M. for Southampton and Havre, with forty passengers and $1,600,000.

Joseph Blunt, the distinguished lawyer, died this morning, aged 65.

The Japanese Embassy arrived at Amboy 12:30, where they were received by the New York committee, who were waiting on board the steamer Alida, which left very soon afterwards for this city, arriving at the Battery 3:40. Nothing unpleasant occurred during the journey from Philadelphia.

A plentiful collation was prepared on board the Alida by the liberality of the Messrs. Leland of the Metropolitan Hotel.

The arrival of the boat at the battery was greeted by the shouts of an immense concourse of people and salutes from the forts and military on shore. At 3:15 P. M. the procession moved from the battery passing up Broadway. The windows and roofs from the Battery to Union, and throughout the other streets through which the procession passed, were crowded with spectators who greeted the embassy with cheers and waiving of handkerchiefs. No accident or disturbance has thus far occurred.

The Japanese are delighted with their reception and quarters at the Metropolitan Hotel. The hotel is illuminated to-night with 3,000 Venetian lights, covering the entire fronts on Broadway and principal streets.—On being shown to their quarters they were astonished with their sumptuous appearance.

The decorations include the Japanese coat of arms, and many characters embodying Japanese sayings. They are to be serenaded to night by a band of one hundred pieces. One of their artists this evening took views of the hotel and the military gathered on Broadway.

MONETARY.

SATURDAY, P. M., June 16th, 1860.

Quietness has prevailed in all departments of trade this week, and the money market in consequence has been quite devoid of activity. Exchange remains at a premium of 1¼ per cent., with a demand sufficient to absorb all that our present exports create.—Money is unusually plenty, and the only thing that troubles our bankers now is to find reliable sources of investment. Under this state of things no difficulty is experienced in negotiating good commercial paper at the bank rate, and even in outside circles first-class names on short paper are taken at 10 per cent. Our brokers quote gold, selling at 1¼ prem., buying at 1¼ prem.

We copy the following quotations from Messrs. PEASE, FARMER & Co's circular:

The Chicago Bank Note List of yesterday contains the following:

The heavy shipments of produce have reduced the premium on Eastern exchange to 1¼, selling. At the reduction, the market is weak and irregular. Should the demand from neighboring cities be heavy, rates may again advance to old figures, 1½, but the present prospect is a short supply of currency and a further decline in exchange. The circulation of Illinois banks is increasing, but hardly sufficient to meet the growing demand for currency. At the present prices of exchange there is but a moderate margin for profit in returning Illinois currency for coin, and as soon as bankers are satisfied that they will escape the cost of redeeming, there is no doubt but that the circulation of Illinois banks will increase sufficiently to afford fair facilities for moving the incoming crop, for which the volume of currency will be inadequate, if the growing crops carry out their promise:

COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY P. M., June 16th, 1860.

The report from New York to-day shows another decline of 1c in wheat, Milwaukee Club selling at $1,22@1,23; Racine Club at $1,22, and Chicago Spring at $1,19. Flour dull and heavy, common to good Extra Western $5@5,25. Our market was very dull at yesterday's inside quotations, $1,02 for No. 1 Spring in store, and $1,00 for No. 2 do. There was a fair shipping demand at these prices, but millers were all out of the market, and on this account the better qualities were almost unsaleable. A few car loads Club sold at $1,03 delivered, and $1,04 was the highest figure named for Extra.

The transactions in Flour were confined to a few hundred bbls, at $3,50@4,00 for Superfine, and $5,30@5,45 for fancy Spring Extra. These prices are higher than any considerable amount could be sold for, the majority of buyers limiting their offers to $5,00 for the best country brands. Some sales of oats were made at 29@30c, the latter figure for some small lots in a retail way. No sales of other grain reported.

Freights are quiet, and a little firmer during the past two days owing to a temporary scarcity of vessels at Chicago. The schooner Milwaukee Belle was chartered at 4½c for wheat to Buffalo. Rates on flour by steam are:

To Buffalo (nominal)	25c ₩ bbl.

CHICAGO MARKET, JUNE 14TH.—Receipts of the articles named, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	1,517
Wheat, bus	10,997
Corn, bus	109,682
Oats, bus	4,178
Rye, bus	99
Barley, bus	150

The Press & Tribune says of the market:

The Receipts of Corn to-day were again liberal, and under discouraging news from below the market ruled dull and heavy—buyers having the decided advantage. The market opened with a fair shipping and speculative inquiry at the inside figures of yesterday; but after the Eastern dispatches were received shippers held off, and at the close prices had fallen 1@1½c. About 110,000 bushels changed hands at 47½@48½c for No. 1 in store; 46@47c for No. 2, and 48c for Rejected.—Wheat was also dull, and we note a still further decline of 1@2c, with transactions amounting to about 17,000 bushels, at $1.02@1.03 for No. 1 Spring; $1.01@1.02 for No. 2 Spring; and 88@90c for Rejected—the market closing heavy, with a downward tendency. There was more activity in the flour market—holders having made further concessions of 5@10c. About 900 bbls changed hands at $4.75@5.00 for medium to choice spring extras, $3.70 for spring superfine, and $3.75 for rye flour. Oats were in good request and steady at 29c in store. Rye 70c. Barley dull with sales of lower grades at 45@50c. Highwines, 18c. Nothing doing in provisions. Hides quiet. The buyers of Wool have increased, and there is a more active competition for few lots offering. We heard of but one sale to-day of Native at 28c and Three-quarter to Full blood at 37c. Whitefish are exceedingly dull and another decline of 12½c had taken place—No. 1 selling at $4.

Vessels are scarce and rates of freight are firmer.—Propellers were engaged to-day at 4c for Corn to Buffalo, and sail vessels at 4½c for Wheat to Buffalo and Corn to Colborne. One vessel to arrive was also taken at 6½c for Corn to Oswego.

NEW YORK HIDE MARKET—June 13.—There is not much activity to-day, and the market is dull and heavy, prices having declined within a few days. Sales of 1700 Rio Grande supposed at 34½, 6 mos, and 1000 dry South Western 20 lbs at 16½c, 6 mos, as they run. A cargo of 10,000 Costa Rica which arrived here yesterday, are to be shipped to Hamburg, and 1000 Orinoco are being shipped to Europe on account of the owner.—Stock here last Saturday 257,000 dry; 8000 wet salted; 400 horse, and 50 bales West India.

RECEIPTS AT TIDE WATER.—The receipts at tide water of Flour, Wheat, Corn and Barley, for the 1st week of June in 1860 and 1859, have been as follows:

	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, bu.	Corn bu.	Barley, bu
1860	25733	122553	521708	300
1859	12632	66157	54593	6000
Inc.	13101	56896	467115	Dec. 5700

The aggregates of the receipts of the above articles so far for the years 1860 and '59, have been:

	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, bu.	Corn, bu.	Barley, bu
1860	185520	1008984	2995744	73013
1859	93818	275314	441342	114312
Inc.	91707	732770	2555402	41299

Reducing the wheat to flour, the increase in the receipts of 1860 is equal to 280,261 bbls flour.

The receipts at tide water of the principal articles of produce, from the opening of the Canals to and including the 7th inst., have been as follows:

	1860.	1859.	1858.

Weekly Review of Milwaukee Markets.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL,
Saturday, P. M., June 16th.

During the past week our produce market has been characterized by an extreme depression, and the decline in prices of Wheat and Flour since our last review amounts to fully 6c per bushel on the former, and 25c per bbl. on the latter, the market closing very unsettled and heavy. The cause of this movement is to be traced mainly to the prospects of an abundant harvest at home, and the lack of any stimulating influence from abroad.

Believing that a retrospective glance would prove interesting to many of our readers, we have prepared the following statement, exhibiting the closing prices of wheat in our market for each week since the beginning of the year:

COARSE GRAINS—Receipts for the week are 4,769 bus oats; 3,292 bus corn; 637 bus barley; and 859 rye. Sales: OATS—500 bus f. o. b at 30c; 100 bus delivered in a retail way at 32c; 50, 120 and 117 bus delivered at 30c; 165 do do at 29½c, and 519 bus on board at 30c; 75 bus delivered at 29c, closing at 28@29c for small lots delivered. CORN—350 bus shelled delivered at 47c, and 1 car at the same figure; 90 bus delivered at 47c; 1 car load in store at 45c; 110 bus delivered at 46c. BARLEY—21 sks of good quality at 65c; 40 sacks prime at 66c, and 20 sks at 63. RYE—70 bus delivered at 72c; 300 bus do at 71c; 225 do at 71c; 600 do at 72c; 700 bus do at 70c; and 400 bus rather inferior in store at 66c.

HIDES.—Receipts by Rail Road for the week are 585. There has been a steady demand for hides without much variation from the prices quoted in our last, namely: 6½@7c for green; 7½@8c for green salted; 12@13c for dry salted; 14@15c for dry flint.

BUTTER—Receipts for the week are 25,206 lbs. The market has been overstocked, and is dull at 7@8c. for firkin, and 9@10 for first choice roll.

WOOL—We find a good deal of unwillingness amongst buyers to furnish quotations, or information in regard to this article, probably owing to the unsettled state of the market at present. The following are the prices being paid, as near as we can ascertain:

Common fleece to ¼ blood 25@30c.; quarter to half blood 30@35c.; half to three-fourths blood, 35@37½c.

SPIRITS—Highwines 19½c.; Whiskey 16@17c.

LIVE STOCK—There is not so much demand for beef cattle as last week, and prices are about 25c lower, ranging from $3,00 to $3,50 per cwt live weight. Yesterday 15 head prime cattle, from Dane County, sold at $3,50, and earlier in the week 55 head from Missouri at $16,00 each. Sheep are bringing $2@2,50, and lambs $2@2,25. Live hogs $5,00 per 150 lbs.

Milwaukee Lumber Market.

FOR WEEK ENDING JUNE 16TH, 1860.

The following statement exhibits our receipts of lumber, shingles, and lath, by lake, for the past two weeks and since the opening of navigation:

	This week.	Last week.	Since Jan. 1st.
Lumber, feet	1,427,000	2,245,000	11,144,000
Shingles	229,000	677,000	5,115,000
Lath, ft	76,000	29,000	651,000

It will be seen that the receipts this week are nearly a million feet less than last week, and the bulk of the arrivals for several days past have been on contracts. Prices of lumber by the cargo are fully 25c ₩ M below the ruling quotations of last week. To-day we are informed that $6,00 is the outside figure dealers will pay for Michigan lumber, and $6@$7,00 is about the range for the different qualities of Wisconsin.

The only sales we hear of are the Cargo of schr. Stella, from Two Rivers, at $6,25;

do do Branch, from Oconto, on p. t.

Deck load from Muskegon at $5,00.

The best A shingles are worth $1,25 by the cargo, No. 1 $1,50; lath $1,75@2,00.

Quotations at the yard are the same as last week:

Clear Plank, 2 in	$30,00
do 1½ & 1¼	30,00
2nd Clear Plank	20,00
do Boards	18,00
Clear Flooring	20,00
2nd Clear Flooring	17,00
Common do	14,00
Clear Siding	14,00
2nd Clear Siding	11,00
Common do	9,00
Common Boards, dry	9,00
Fencing	8,00
Joists and Scantling	9,00
Pickets, ₩ M	8,00
Lath	2,50
Shingles	2,00@2,25
Posts	5@7c

In selling green lumber by the car load, dealers in some instances have cut under these rates 50c a thousand.

Milwaukee Wholesale Grocery Trade.

By advices from New Orleans, to June 2nd, we learn that the stock of sugars is nearly exhausted, and an advance of half a cent has taken place on the medium and lower grades, and ¼ to ⅜c on the higher qualities. The New York market has also been tending upward for some weeks past, and may now be quoted at ¼ to ⅜c higher than on the 25th of April. In teas, also, we have to notice an important movement based on the small stock, and the threatening aspect of affairs between England and China. High prices are now realized on all grades of Green and Black; the lower qualities, however, have been most affected, the advance being equal to 4@5c on them, while on the finer grades it may be quoted only at 2@3c. Coffees still maintain their usually high rates, and are realizing better figures than on the 1st of the present month. Notwithstanding loud complaints of dullness in trade from the Eastern markets, nearly all the leading articles of traffic seem to be increasing in value, a somewhat extraordinary state of things, induced, perhaps, by the plethoric condition of the money market and reluctance of capitalists to invest abroad.

SATURDAY—P. M.

Milwaukee to Memphis by Water—The Perplexities of River Navigation.

ON BOARD OF THE GURDON GRANT,
MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 9, 1860.

MR EDITOR:—We have just completed our voyage to Memphis, and are well pleased with the appearance of this beautiful place. We let go our lines at Lasalle, Ill., May 28th, but had proceeded only six miles down the river, when we ran hard aground, and the balance of that day was required to accomplish the operation of "getting off." At last we got afloat again and went on our journey, though not without grounding every few miles, and at one time we needed the assistance of two barges to raise us out of the sand before we could move. This was done by running timbers across the Grant and resting their ends on the decks of the barges at each side of us. This accomplished, we began to feel sure of making the Mississippi, which we did with considerable trouble.

Arriving at the junction of the two rivers, we lowered the Grant to her bearings, and made the run from the junction to Alton, 20 miles, in one hour and fifteen minutes. As we glided down the great commercial artery of the West, we were saluted by passing steamers. The Grant is a great curiosity to the people along this river, running down the river at a speed which few of the steamers surpass. When passing passenger steamers the whole company would rush to the guards, and the ladies waived their handkerchiefs and cheered at the same time, wondering what wee "thing of life" that could be. We made a short stop at St. Louis, and were boarded by not a few inquisitive ones, asking where we were from and to what place we were bound. We left St. Louis toward evening, and ran down to Quarantine, where we lay by, and as we carried no passengers and being bound down, were subject to the medical examination; but, however, the doctors insisted upon a thorough search, and after some time succeeded in finding—a bottle of brandy, which they kindly passed around. Long live the doctors of Quarantine! Morning came, and we passed on, having the pleasure of visiting some very beautiful residences upon the bluffs of the great river. As we run down the shore of the Arkansas we could see many dark countenances appearing upon the banks of the river, asking, "what dat dar was?" "what is dat boat goin?"

I cannot forget our gentlemanly pilot, Mr. RICE, who so accurately guided our little craft in her meandering passage, the river between St. Louis and Cairo being most difficult to navigate. We saw the wrecks of not a few steamers, amongst which was the ill-fated A. T. Lay, from which 17 lives were lost, the circumstances of which are fresh in our memory at this time. After getting as far as Arkansas we tied up for the night by the banks, where not many years since was an earthquake, some of the fissures being yet visible.—Morning came and we glided down, down, down this great river. After overtaking and passing a steamer, we soon came to a short turn in the river which brought Memphis in full view. We were soon at the landing where we were the subject of many remarks. This ends our voyage to the South.

Yours, respectfully,
N. W. D.

CHICAGO AND THE EAST.
FARES AS LOW AS ANY OTHER ROUTE.
Passengers wishing to go by this desirable and pleasant Route, should be particular and ask for tickets by Fort Wayne, avoiding the annoyance of re-checking baggage as by other routes.
Trains leave the depot on VAN BUREN ST., daily as follows:
6:15 A. M., Morning Mail and Express.
7:25 P. M., Night Express.
CHECKING BAGGAGE THROUGH
To Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York. Connecting directly with trains on the great Pennsylvania Central Railroad, to all Eastern cities. Also, with the Cleveland & Columbus R. R. to Cleveland, Dunkirk, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, via New York Central and New York and Erie Railroads to New York and Boston.
Persons going East will find this route by far the most desirable, both from the advantage in point of distance, variety and beauty of the country through which the roads pass, as well as the less frequent changes of cars, and the annoyance of re-checking baggage required by other routes.
Facilities for the transportation of Freight and Live Stock by this route, are unsurpassed. Rates as low as any other route, and with equal dispatch.
